Bing Crosby Fund presents CV pool $4000

dressing room building, Bob showed it to the first little swimmer he encountered, Scarlett Hattan, daughter of the Mark Hattans of Carmel Valley Road. Inspecting the donation at Bob's right is Bill Wakefield, of the CUSD recreation department, and swim instructors, Channing Miller and Mrs. Ann Cuny. Tom Verga, (at right) director of youth activities for the Community Center Board, happily witnessed the transfer.

Ed Leslie, two other area men place in Northwest auto races

At the Road Racing Championships held the past weekend in Kent, Washington, Don Wester from Monterey placed third in the overall race. Sixth place went to Junior Parsons, also of Monterey.

Although Ed Leslie of Carmel Valley had car trouble, he still came in 11th in the overall race and fourth in the under 2-liter category.

Local girls in National Synchronized Swim contest

DAUGHTERS OF CDR. AND MRS. ARIEL LANE of Via Mallorca, Marsha and Marilyn Lane departed this afternoon for Maumee, Ohio, where they will represent the Cypress Swim Club in the 1965 Senior National AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships, August 6, 7, and 8. Accompanying them were their coach, Donn Squire and Del Neel, manager of the Cypress Swim Club, who will act as AAU officials at the meet. Following the championships, they will travel to Chagrin Falls, where the girls and their coach have been invited as special guest performers in the Chagrin Valley Recreation Center's annual water show. This is the pool in Ohio, where Donn took his early swimming training before going on to become the Men's National AAU Synchronized Swimming Solo Champion.

Half Arabian gelding of Carmel Valley's Vic Silva Wins Grand Champion of show

Reese River, a half Arabian gelding owned and handled by Victor Silva of Carmel Valley, won first place in his class and was named Grand Champion of the Show at the Arabian Horse Assoc. of Northern California benefit show for the American Cancer Society Saturday at the Fairgrounds.

Another first place winner from the Valley was 13-year-old Lee Ann Dahle, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Dahle, who rode Egg Nogg to victory in the Dollar Bill Marathon gymkhana event.

Reese River was being shown for the first time anywhere. He is five years old and has been owned by Vic for a year and a half.

The Dollar Bill Marathon was one of the most entertaining events of the show. Each rider sat bareback on a dollar bill and rode his horse at a walk, trot or lope at the discretion of the judge. LeeAnn kept her dollar safe after more than a dozen times around the ring and was rewarded by collecting the lost dollar bills of the other contestants.

Placing fourth in the same class as Reese River was Zandy Lad, owned and handled by Frank Ballantyne of Carmel Valley. Zandy Lad also placed 4th in the Western Pleasure class with Ersula Ballantyne riding.

Other Valley winners were J. W. Gutekunst, handling Marijuka's Micah in the foals of 1964 and 65 class; Dr. Peter Mutke's Kaval with Wolfgang Zach riding an obstacle race placed 5th; 13-year-old Susan McArthur rode Latigo de los Vientos to win 4th place in the junior pleasure horse class.

Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Chappell's Ratz placed 7th in the English pleasure horse class with Andree Forzani riding and Loren Hoskins won 6th place with Chappell's Rokaz in the Arabian native costume class championship.

State bike meet at Pebble Beach

A new sports event is scheduled at Pebble Beach-August 8, Sunday, some 50 to 75 bicycle riders will compete in the State Championships over a winding 8 1/2 mile course in the Del Monte Forest.

The event will get under way at 7:30 a.m. at the old start-finish line of the Sports Car Race Course near the Pebble Beach Stables, with the junior contestants (age 14-17) completing 50 miles, and the seniors (age 17 and up) 100 miles.

According to O. W. Bradford, president of the Cypress Cycling Club of the Monterey Peninsula, the best location for spectators is along the 17-Mile Drive between Point Joe and Cypress Point.

Ed Leslie to drive in National Road Races at Candlestick Park

Deer hunting prospects good

Good survival of the 1962 and 1963 fawn crops should result in another increase in the buck kill in Monterey county this year.

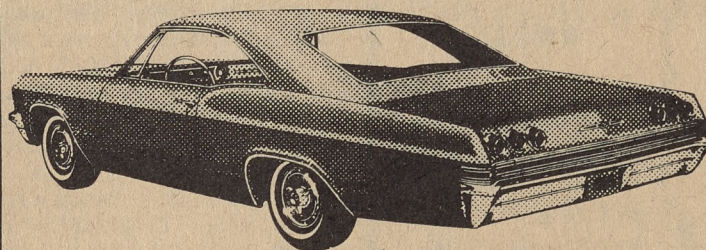

Deer season opens Aug. 7 and continues through Sept. 19. Last year's take was 1,968 bucks --- up more than 350 from the year before. The six-year average buck kill in Monterey County is 2,239.

Ed Leslie of Carmel Valley and Don Wester of Monterey will both race in the 3rd annual Candlestick National Road Races in San Francisco on Saturday, August 7 and Sunday, August 8.

The course will consist of all paved city streets, access roads and parking lot of the Giant's Stadium and Candlestick Point. In the 2.1 mile per lap course there will be 11 major turns, both right and left and up and down hill.

Ed will race for Shelby in a GT 350 Mustang and Don will drive the Porsche 904.

Carmel Valley and Carmel residents join MPC staff

Funds available for work-study at MPC

A sum of $11,110 for the employment of needy students in Monterey Peninsula College's work-study program will be available for the fall semester under the Economic Opportunity Act, Mrs. Marjorie B. Marshall, MPC director of student services, announced.

This sum, 90 per cent of which will be supplied by the government and 10 per cent by the college district, will provide on-campus part-time employment for some 30 students, Mrs. Marshall said.

She urged students planning to enter as freshmen, as well as other who qualify, to fill out applications now.

In general, eligibility requirements stipulate that the parents of students have a combined income of $3,000 or less. However, $600 may be allowed for each dependent in addition to the applicant.

Chapel Thrift Shop sale

The Community Chapel Thrift Shop will have a half price sale on men and boys clothing this Saturday from 10 to 5. A large collection of suits and shirts are included.

A Carmel and Carmel Valley resident will join the teaching staff of Monterey Peninsula College when classes resume this fall.

Mrs. M. Jacqueline Giordano, of Upper Circle, will teach part-time in the business department. She has taught previously in night school. Her husband, Al, is a full-time instructor in the business department who is at present on sabbatical leave.

Mrs. Giordano is a graduate of Indiana Central College and has done graduate work at Arizona State University. She will replace Mrs. Mary R. Donovan who is moving to the east coast.

Mrs. Shirley Bialek of Carmel, wife of Dr. Hilton Bialek, member of the Carmel School Board, will teach part-time in the Spanish Department. She has taught at Wilson College in Pennsylvania, Bemidji State College in Minnesota and at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Mrs. Bialek obtained her B.A. at University of Minnesota and her M.A. at the University of Wisconsin.

Joel Readio of Carmel Valley, engineering instructor at the college, was granted a sabbatical leave for the 1966-67 academic year.

Hail, hail, the pets all gang up at Tularcitos

IT WAS SOMETHING of a tussle to haul all the pets together for their photo at the recent summer recreation program at Tularcitos School. Everything from lizards to rats, and turties to bunnies were on parade. More photos on pages 3 and 6.

More from Sheriff's Blotter

July 30--Theora Foster of Carmel Rancho Sunshine Center reported two metal laundry carts worth $22 each had been stolen.

July 29--Rex Pryer reported that a client, Greta Peterson of Monterey, had a Kenmore clothes dryer stolen from her house at River Road.

July 26--Adda Blumquist of Upper Valley near Jamesburg Road reported a cow had been shot in one of their fields on the 21st and that during the week prior to the Salinas Rodeo a buggy had been taken.

July 26--Isobel Higgins reported she thought she heard someone on the roof next door at 2 a.m. Two deputy sheriffs arrived in two minutes and checked area thoroughly, finding no one.

WATER: 5 CENTS A GALLON

That's the way it was in early California times, and that's the way it still is in parts of the world today. Delivered by wagon tank and dumped into the family cistern, the water was never really safe. Our forefathers took their chances with drinking water just as they took their lives into their hands while building and expanding our great West.

Water delivery is quite a different matter now. Just think of what it would be like if we had to depend upon the old-fashioned water wagon supply. There would be no lush green lawns, no verdant flower gardens, no automatic washers, and we'd all be forced to wait at least until Saturday for our next shower. And the price we have to pay for water now is different, too. The average family will use about 400 gallons of water a day which costs in the neighborhood of 10 cents.

That dime a family spends for water every day buys the storage ability of reservoirs, the delivery services of pipelines and pumps, the safety assured by purification practices, and the engineering skill of trained waterworks men. This photograph taken at the ghost town of Calico in the Mojave Desert is a grim reminder of the value of water in California. It serves to spotlight our good fortune in having an abundant supply of good, safe water available twenty-four hours a day every day.

Le Roi Owens' house burns with estimated $25,000 lost

The Country Club Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Le Roi Owens, who recently opened the "His and Hers Salon" in the Village, was destroyed by fire in the early morning hours of July 28. Mrs. Owens was in San Francisco at the time and Mr. Owens was in Carmel at the home of his mother.

The fire which was already roaring when the alarm was turned in at 1:40 a.m., seemed to started in the living room and did approximately $25,000 damage to the three-bedroom home. Only the garage, car port and an attached guest house were saved. Damage to the contents of the house was estimated at $5,000.

Four units of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department with 15 men fought the stubborn blaze. The final call was turned in at 5:45 a.m., and, according to fireman Don Laird, it was after 6 a.m. before the firemen returned to their homes.

Stubborn fire at Double H Ranch seen from afar

Three Carmel Valley fire-trucks and two trucks from the Tulareitos Forestry Station responded to the fire report at the Double H Ranch owned by Mrs. Henry Potter Russell on Sunday evening.

The fire, which was reported by a passing motorist, started in a dump at the base of a cliff on the west side of the river. The tremendous column of smoke was visible from all over the Valley as flames raced up the bluff and restarted in the roots and refuse on the floor of the gulley.

Fire was confined to a fairly narrow area and no real damage resulted. However, it was a stubborn blaze to extinguish and a bulldozer had to be brought in to bury the hot coals.

Eighteen men from the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department poured 1000 gallons of water on the smouldering area and then patrolled it until almost 8 p.m. while the Forestry crews stayed on until dark.

The Sheriff's Blotter

JULY 23--L. W. Hicks, 66 Sage Road, phoned at 8 a.m. to report that boys with motorcycles and cars were causing a very loud noise on his property the preceding night at 3 a.m., and some one had stolen gas from cars in his carport. Some of the boys were sleeping in sleeping bags but they had all left by the time he phoned.

Deputy who took the call said that if he had called while the complaint was in progress he could have helped, but since Mr. Hicks had phoned after they had gone, the deputy couldn't help him.

JULY 19-- Mrs. Yolande Curran, who lives behind the Post Office in the Village, reported that she had been away for two days and upon return found signs of someone trying to break into her house, but they had been unsuccessful.

JUNE 30--Deputy has been working on this report until this week.) Edwin Lundblad, Pancho Way and Brookdale Drive, reported that a vacant house at that address which he is remodeling had been entered and a party had taken place inside. Deputy found entry had been made by breaking a window, and found cigarette butts and empty soft drink bottles. Investigation showed that approximately 20 juveniles had had a party there. Originally they had intended to have a party at the home of two girls who live nearby whose parents were away, but when they showed up at the girls' house without prior notice, the girls refused to let them in. They then went to vacant house. Mr. Lundblad said that he would not prosecute if the persons responsible would take care of the damage by working it out and they agreed.

JULY 19-- Miss Barbara Brown, 333 W. Carmel Valley Road, reported her house had been burglarized. Entry had been through unlocked patio door. Six and a half books of Blue Chip stamps were taken from a desk in her bedroom.

JULY 19--Mr. Dean D. Espinosa, Wagon Wheel Picnic Grounds, reported four horseback riders were causing disturbance and scaring picnickers and campers. Deputy caught up with riders who said they were on their way home from Salinas Rodeo and meant no harm by what they had done. After warning by deputy that charges would be filed if they continued, they agreed to do no more on the rest of the way home. The incident took place at 9 p.m.

JULY 15--Mr. Cecil J. McGowan, Village Drive, caretaker for Mrs. Paul L. Veeder of Pebble Beach, who owns property on Garzas Road, reported that a gate and part of fence had been damaged. Deputy investigated and obtained lead from witness who had seen two boys in a car the day after the damage occurred near the gate, apparently laughing about it. Witness took down license and description of car, and through this they were able to solve the case. An 18-year-old boy from Carmel had just left his girl friend at her home at 1 a.m. on July 15 after an argument. He went to push over county road signs with his car, did so, and then accidentally backed into the gate.

Fire Department 1st Aid Squad makes 2 runs

The first aid squad of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department was called to 28 Paso Hondo at 1:20 a.m. July 25 to transport Elaine Kelley, a medical emergency to the Community Hospital.

Two persons involved in a single car auto accident on the Carmel Valley Road in the Cachagua area were brought to the Fire Station July 27 at 8:15 a.m. Firemen administered first aid to Barbara and John Parrish of Lupine Lane and then transported them to a local physician for further treatment.

Hit musicals brighten season at White Oaks

'Brigadoon' at White Oaks Theatre ending Sunday, 'Can Can' starting next Thursday

"Brigadoon," one of the major classics of the popular musical theatre, concludes its current run after performances this Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evening at Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre.

It is under the direction of Gale Peterson who also is responsible for the choreography.

Community Theatre to open with 'Teahouse of the August Moon'

One of California's oldest outdoor amphitheatres, the Forest Theatre in Carmel, will reopen with the production of John Patrick's "Teahouse of the August Moon" by the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula.

For 55 years now, Carmelites have wandered up the path at Santa Rita and Mountain View, often with flashlights and blankets, to sit by light of the two huge fires and see unfold before them dramas of all ages. The towering pines and gnarled oaks have been the backdrop for such famous Broadway stars as George Marion as Shylock in 1933 and Judith Anderson in the western premiere of Robinson Jeffers' great verse play "Tower Beyond Tragedy" in 1941.

Over 200 plays have been produced by numerous companies of talented amateurs; but perhaps the theatre's greatest contribution to drama has been its long history of presenting original plays by authors who have gone on to national fame.

Sidney Howard's first play, "Sons of Spain," written while he was still a student at the University of California, was a 1914 offering, and Jack London, the Forest's most famous emeritus, was a charter member of the Western Drama Society, which produced his play, "The First Poet" on a program of one-acts in 1915.

A guiding spirit at the theatre, Herbert Heron, now living in Carmel, spans more than 50 years on its stage. Not only did Heron select the site, lease the land, and help form the first company in 1910, but he has been active in scores of productions, either as author, producer, director, actor, or in all four capacities.

The forthcoming production of "Teahouse of the August Moon" will open August 27 and run for two consecutive weekends.

Also playing every Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. is the amusing adventure for children, "Off With His Honorable Head." Written in the Oriental fashion, the audience's imagination is called upon to develop the action.

Colorful costumes designed by Jim Swain enhance the production, and it is wise to make reservations in advance, especially for Birthday parties and other special groups.

For those who have not visited the unique Valley Theatre, White Oaks is located on Carmel Valley Road between the Tennis Ranch and the Hide-A-Way Motel, within easy driving distance from all points on the Peninsula.

New King Dodo play announced

The King Dodo Players of San Jose opens a new play tonight in the Theater in the Round of the Brass Lantern Restaurant in San Juan Bautista. The play is "Come Blow Your Horn" by Neil Simmons and will play Wednesdays during August.

Curtain is at 8:45 allowing time for a theater dinner before the performance. Those wishing to attend the play are requested to be seated for dinner by 7 p.m.

Nick Hovik very good indeed in 'Billy Liar'

A rueful little comedy, beautifully acted by the Golden Bough Players opened Friday night at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre.

In the title role of "Billy Liar," Nick Hovik is very good indeed. From his first late-for-breakfast appearance in the bleak dining-living room of his lower-middle class English parents, his audience is with him, no matter what unsavory adventure he may have in mind.

In the end they want Billy to escape from grim reality, in fact as well as in fancy; his wildly creative imagination earns him their admiration as well as his uncomplimentary nickname.

Good as the supporting cast is, it is Mr. Hovik's play, for without a strong lead, it would be a sad evening, instead of a hilarious one.

Jean McGill as Billy's grandmother, Derik Napier Lawford as his father, Helen Vogel as his mother and Layne Littlepage as his No. 1 girl friend all perfectly compliment young Mr. Hovik.

Robert Barrett as a boy friend and Katrin Stoney and Anne Brown as two more girls who complicate Billy's life, do very well, but it is perhaps too much to expect them to all achieve the same dialect.

Miss Stoney is a little too stridently vehement right off the bat, instead of saving some of her rage for her big scene when she fights to snatch Billy's ring from Barbara. But it's a fine wild row anyway. Mr. Barrett should relax more, too, and we thought Miss Brown too sweet and ethereal for the "Scuffy Liz" we'd been led to expect from what we'd learned about her earlier in the play from the other characters.

But these are minor complaints and we want to compliment Norman McPhee on his wise casting and direction and Carol McPhee on her poignantly ugly, just-right set.

The best we can wish for all the people having to do with the Billy Liar production is a house full of appreciative people every Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 p.m. through September 12.

Eskimo exhibit now at Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History

The Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History announces completion of new semipermanent exhibits of Eskimo artifacts from the museum's collections. Many of the objects are of very early date and come principally from collections donated by Earnst deK. Leffingwell, C. B. Phillips, Mrs. Amelie Elkington and Mrs. D. L. James.

The exhibition will be available for some months, and may be viewed daily except Monday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. Admission is free.

Free movie Salinas church

The movie "The Tony Fontane Story" will be shown Saturday, August 7, 8:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church Gymnasium, 830 Padre Drive, Salinas. There is no admission.

School food vending machines issue problems with lunches

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series examining the use of vending machines as the only source of lunches for students in local schools.)

For better or for worse, Carmel Unified School District has, for the last few years, provided lunches for Carmel High and Carmel Junior High school students from only one source--vending machines.

In this respect, the Carmel schools are two of a handful of U.S. schools pioneering the use of vendors for lunch food sources.

Though no surveys of use have apparently been made locally, two Southern California schools with similar lunchrooms--containing vending machines only--provide some interesting statistics.

At Lynwood High School near Los Angeles, the lunchroom's top sellers are "hot and cold beverages, pastry and ice cream, in that order," according to a report in Vend magazine. Hamburgers lead at Glendora High, also near Los Angeles, followed closely by burritos, the magazine says.

(Vend magazine fancies itself as "the magazine of automatic vending.")

BALANCED LUNCHES?

Whether this signifies that the students are getting balanced lunches would seem to be a good question, but probably one for the experts.

One expert on the subject declined to be quoted by name, but she has had years of experience as manager of elementary and high schools in Monterey County -- schools which she describes as very similar to those in Carmel district.

Asked specifically about whether students would make a proper choice through machines if given the choice, she replied: "Gosh, no. You know they wouldn't. You know how youngsters like that are."

And in both magazine reports on Glendora and Lynwood high schools, nothing was mentioned about balanced lunches, except that "a greater variety of food is served through the vendors than with the snack bar."

According to Vend, the sandwich is the "undisputed leader" in vender foods.

"There are problems connected with commissary--prepared platters and casseroles--low sales and a high percentage of throw-away.

HOT FOOD

"Hot food does not hold up well under constant heat and must be discarded if not sold in an interval of two or three hours."

At Carmel High, one person who works for Allied Vending Company, the firm which operated the machines, was cornered by the Outlook and a lengthy interview ensued.

(The board of trustees has since voted to turn over all operation and food preparation to the district, instead of contracting with Allied.--Ed.)

Selected comments on the food service at CHS included: OUTLOOK: Since all this came out in the papers has there been any significant change?

EMPLOYEE: I've been harassed...Down at the junior high (the students eating lunch) all yell and boo me when I come in there. They throw the food and the papers and stuff at me: They yell, "Throw the bum out!" I try to ignore them.

OUTLOOK: At the high school, do you have the same kind of trouble?

FOOD THROWING

EMPLOYEE: Oh, yeah. The kids throw food and yell-you know. But school officials have managed to control the rowdiness.

OUTLOOK: Who checks the temperatures (in refrigerated machines)?

EMPLOYEE: We have this health kit that automatically sets the right temp. If the temp is wrong, the coin gets returned...like this...(It doesn't work, several times)...damn, this machine did that the last time, too.

(After that experience, a school custodian repaired the coin return mechanism.)

The Carmel district officials' claim that the former cafeteria at Carmel High was losing money was probably true--but only because practically all school cafeterias do.

An Outlook spotcheck revealed only one high school cafeteria which was netting more than its overhead.

LESS USE

One worker in a high school cafeteria with a student body nearly the same size as that at CHS said the school has to expect to lose money in order to supply good lunches to students at reasonable prices.

The district, however, has one valid claim--that less and less students were using the hot lunch facilities.

At Glendora too, this was a problem. That is one reason Glendora installed machines.

Even now, when hot lunches at 40 cents a plate are offered in addition to machine choices, only 150 of 2,117 buy the hot meals in any one day.

Applications taken through Aug. 19 for Fall admission to MPC

Applications for Fall admission to Monterey Peninsula College are being taken now, with August 19 as the cutoff date, Registrar Louise White announced today.

Early acceptance is a distinct advantage to a student, Mrs. White said. She also pointed out that evening students planning to take only one or two courses need not apply for admission, unless those courses are a part of a full program or the students are working toward a degree.

Placement examinations, required of anyone who wants to take over six units of work, have been scheduled for August 13 and 20, 8:30 a.m. in the Armory on campus.

Pre-registration of entering day students will take place from August 16 through September 3. Actual registration - the completion of all paperwork - will occur September 8 and 10.

Evening college English placement examinations, required of all those planning to take courses in English, United States history, American government, psychology, sociology or speech, will be offered Thursday, August 26, and Wednesday, September 1, 7 p.m. in the library lecture hall.

Evening students will register on the evening of September 10; September 11, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and the evenings of September 13-15.

All MPC classes - day and evening - will begin September 13.

The Valley at LARGE

Comings and goings of people you know...

By GINNIE DREW

Robert Ziener has just received confirmation of his appointment as Director of Public Relations and Advertising for World Airways, Inc. Headquarters for World Airways is at the Oakland International Airport, so Bob and his wife, Madeleine, will be moving to the Bay Area from their home in Robles Del Rio. The Zieners have lived in the Valley for two and a half years during which time Bob has been the Monterey County representative for the national "Write Your Congressman" Club, in addition to having his own consulting business.

The new assignment began on August 1. World Airways is the country's largest independent airline, specializing in charter flights for both passengers and cargo, so Bob will be kept busy. However, they plan frequent visits to friends in the Valley after they are established in their new home.

WINNER LOSES

The excitement of having come in sixth in the money at the Salinas Rodeo was somewhat dimmed for the Fred Nations when they returned to the parking lot at the rodeo grounds to discover that their car had been stolen. Fortunately, it was discovered not far away, parked by the side of the road, but with the clutch burned out.

BRAZILIANS HERE

Raul de Vincenzi, Brazilian Consul General from San Francisco, and his friend, Jorge de Carvalho Silva, minister counselor for the Brazilian embassy in Washington, have been vacationing in Carmel for the month of July. Each morning at nine, however, they could be seen taking advantage of the Carmel Valley sunshine as they brought their children to the Community Pool for swimming lessons. The gentlemen were pleased that their youngsters, Raul, Jorge and Maria Carolina, started swimming within a week. Mr. de Vincenzi said that he is already planning his next summer's vacation for Carmel and Carmel Valley.

POOL PICNIC

Sunday's swimming meet at the Community Pool brought out a tremendous number of persons to cheer for the youngsters. Families, or parts of families seen in the packed grandstands were: Larry Cummings, Don Condren, Lou Gardner, Donald Thornberg, Chip Collins, Reg Bennett, Phil Cordrey, Bob Jones, Walt Reams, Don Brill, Fred Boehme, June Campbell, Doyt Early and Bill Klech.

Following the meet, barbecue braziers and tables were set up around the pool for family picnics. Steve Marinescu, instructor at the Army Language School, entertained with songs and played his accordion. He resembled the Pied Piper, with a trail of children following him as he strolled among the picnickers.

MOVING TO MARIN

Jim and Priscilla Raynes and their children, Michael and Susie, will be able to take their time while looking for a new house in Marin county. A friend of theirs who is going to be gone for the rest of the summer has lent them her apartment in Ross, so they have put their own things in storage until they make the final move.

Jim has been teaching for almost a year at the College of Marin and commuting on weekends to their Valley house, but this got to be too much. So, reluctantly, they sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. David Edwards and made the move. When last seen, Jim was heading north in the Jeep with all the boxes of earth worms which helped keep Priscilla's gardens so beautiful!

UC engineering student George Clifford says Berkeley exciting place offering a full variety of activities

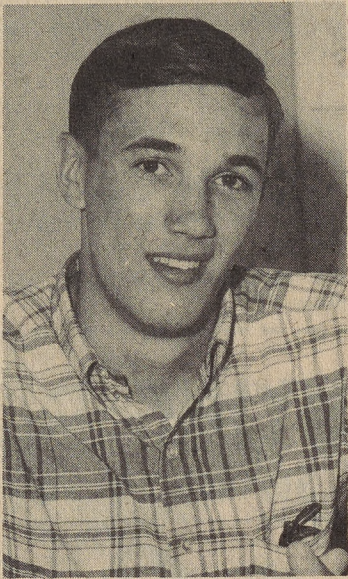

By LYNNE NORTON

George Clifford, a junior mechanical engineering major, at the University of California at Berkeley, finds his alma mater an exciting place where there is always something happening--concerts, plays, lectures, sports events, and of course, there's always studying to be done.

George is very active at Cal. He is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Ski Club, the J.V. Soccer Team, and the Sailing Club's Sailing Team.

This summer George is working as a waiter at Los Laureles Lodge and living with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. George M. Clifford (U.S.N. Ret.) of Rancho Road.

"Fall semester is the best

GEORGE CLIFFORD

one at Cal. Everyone's ready to go again after the summer," declares George.

F.S. MOVEMENT

During last fall semester, the Berkeley campus was particularly eventful because of the activities of the Free Speech Movement. "So many different things built up and they called it F.S.M. I think most people got behind F.S.M. because they wanted to get back at the system," muses George.

The system he speaks of is "the machine called the University of California that hands a degree to a student after four years of having education sort of pressed into him," George explains.

George viewed the F.S.M.'s activities only as a curious bystander. He reports that only two students in the College of Engineering actively participated. Most of the F.S.M. members were students of the College of Letters and Science.

F.S.M.'s picketing of classes affected George the most of any of its fall activities. The pickets wanted the student body to strike and not attend classes. George felt, "It was either go to class or flunk." So he crossed the picket lines and went to class.

"The pickets weren't nasty about it. They let us through, sometimes handing us leaflets as we crossed their lines.

CONFUSING TIME

"This was a very confusing time--some classes were cancelled by professors in sympathy with the Movement. Finally, the University cancelled all classes for one day."

George feels that whether one considers F.S.M.'s goal to be freedom of speech, to change the system, or both, the Movement was successful.

The Regents granted the student body the freedom of speech that F.S.M. asked for.

The Teaching Assistants now have a union and the University has announced the appointment of another new chancellor. George cites these items as changes in the system that the F.S.M. helped bring about.

Yet now the F.S.M., which changed its name to the Free Speech Union, no longer has a cause, "It has been going steadily down hill," says George. Mario Savio, the original leader of the F.S.M. who is now paying dearly for last fall's triumphs, left the F.S.U. in May.

The University of California tries to flunk out students as fast as possible. George's class in the College of Engineering has been cut in half in two years.

LARGE CLASSES

George would like to see smaller classes at Berkeley, especially in the required lower division classes which he reports often contain as many as 400 students in a lecture class. The large lectures break-up into small discussion groups, usually meeting once a week.

These groups are of about 20 students led by a teaching assistant who is a graduate student. George reports that the T.A.'s vary greatly. "Some are dedicated and some couldn't care less," he says.

A Cal student must make an effort to get to know his professors, and it can be done, George says. He finds that it is easiest to get to know profs of the College of Engineering. "Fantastic," George rates the Cal library.

Even though George finds Cal far from perfect, he feels that "people who go to a junior college and then transfer miss a lot." He's looking forward to a new and normal fall semester.

School bus case may go to state supreme court

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manjares and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wallace will have to wait until August 6 to find out if they will be granted a hearing regarding school transportation for their children.

The two families who live eight miles beyond the Hastings Reservation in Carmel Valley applied to the State Supreme Court in June, through their lawyer, Francis Heisler of Carmel, for a hearing to decide their case.

For the past two years the legal issue of whether transportation for the nine children involved would be provided by the Carmel Unified School District has see-sawed back and forth. Last May the District Court of Appeals over-ruled an earlier verdict requiring the district to provide transportation and made the parents responsible for getting their children to the Hastings Reservation pick-up point. The parents contend that they are unable to comply with this ruling.

Attorney Heisler stated that he will attempt to provide interim transportation for the children through a stay of the last decision until all appeals have been made.

UNDER THE OAKS AND AMONG THE CACTI

By MILDRED HATTAN

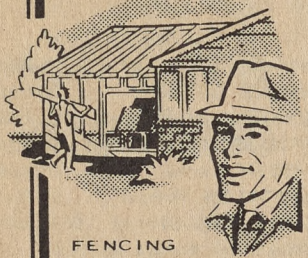

A family dinner at the River Ranch home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeAmaral, and a long distance telephone call from his father made the seventh birthday of Frank DeAmaral Jr. very special. Frank accompanied by his mother, Patricia, sister, Mary Elizabeth, and brothers, Zane, and Gwin Patrick, arrived recently from Fort Hood, Texas. His father, Capt. Frank DeAmaral is enroute from Fort Benning to Fort Rourke where orders for Vietnam await him. The family currently staying at the River Ranch, have purchased the Bill Barnes home on Ford Road where they will remain with "The Sheriff," a wire haired dauchund, while Capt. DeAmaral flies his missions in Vietnam. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davenport, Jackie and Louise, Mrs. Florence Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Artean and children, Pauline, Geraldine, Jo Jo and Benny.

HOUSEGUESTS

Hospitality abounds at the River Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt. They had just returned from five weeks in Palm Springs and Arizona when house guests began to arrive. Among them were Mrs. Albert Hunt of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lavery of Toronto, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green of San Diego, and the Hunt's son, Capt. (USN) Burton H. Andrews. Capt. Andrews had Valleyite Paul Cooper as his instructor in 1949 for post graduate work at Annapolis so the two enjoyed their brief opportunity to "remember when."

POOLSIDE FASHIONS

Luncheon guests are enjoying fashions shown poolside at the Rancho Del Monte Country Club from Joanne's Sportswear and Joanne's Boutique. Recent Valley models include Laura Shepherd, Betsy Godhes, Betsy Bingham and daughter, Chris, Georgia Gallaway and Jo Ann Hall.

SWIM-SLUMBER PARTY

Miss Bonnie Hendrix was hostess at a swimming and slumber party held last week at the Camp Steffani home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn Hendrix. Guests enjoyed a taco dinner on the patio followed by games for which prizes were awarded. Overnight guests were Nancy Reams, Melanie Basset, Christine Brill, Kelly Garner, Gail Gayman, Terry Graham, and Bonnie's sister, Terry.

NEW ZEALAND GUEST

A charming visitor from New Zealand, at the Robert Broberg home on Laurel Drive, is Mrs. L. H. Haydon of Palmerston North. Mrs. Haydon plans a long visit with her daughter, Nancy and family on this her first trip to the States in twelve years. The Broberg family was at that time living in Illinois so this is her first visit to our area.

NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Garner and children Kelly, Steven and Brooks have moved from Lower Circle to their attractive newly completed home on the corner of Laurel Drive and West Carmel Valley Road.

WELCOME HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morenz have returned to their La Rancheria home from an eastern expedition that began June 3. Flying to New York they visited the Fair, attended shows at Radio City, and vacationed in Connecticut. While Mr. Morenz attended advanced engineering courses at Michigan State, Mrs. Morenz and children, Jerralynn, Kenneth and Mark, enjoyed a visit in New York with her parents and family whom they hadn't seen for two years.

ESCAPE INJURY

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Masaglia and children of 120 El Homorro escorted their ten year old son, Tommy, to St. Mary's Camp last week for a two week stay. Tommy was particularly looking forward to the indoor swimming pool at Moraga which is the location of St. Mary's College in the winter time. The family holiday very nearly ended in tragedy when the Masaglia car and trailer was struck and totally destroyed by a drunken driver. All of the Valleyites escaped serious injury.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Hampton's Happy Valley Birthday Park in Salinas was the site chosen by Duane Marzi for the celebration of his seventh birthday. Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudi Marzi, Calle De La Aguila. Guests enjoyed the many park activities followed by the gifts and a picnic lunch served in the park's party room. The birthday cake was decorated with lots of little boy appeal with cowboys, indians, and a covered wagon. Duane's grandmother, Mrs. Eleanor Foppiano, assisted with party arrangements. Guests attending were Wesley Kelner and his guest, Ward, Dick Mark, Billy Neidinger, Paul Rauber, Alex Blevin, Alan Crockett, Rory Buckenroth, Greg and Jimmy Giordano, and the honored guest's sister, Lori.

VALLEY VISITORS

Los Angeles guests spending the week at the Lower Circle home of Lt. and Mrs. William Nelson have been Joyce's mother, Mrs. E. F. Gueble accompanied by her other children, Stephanie and Richard.

BIRTHDAY BBQ

A birthday tradition begun several years ago by Mr. and Mrs. A. Satterfield combines the birthdays of several July celebrants. Once again guests enjoyed the annual barbecue at the Satterfield home on Lower Private Road where the main dish was an exotic roast recipe which recently won a national contest. Honored guests were Mrs. Satterfield's mother, Mrs. L. E. Mauzey of Pacific Grove, Mrs. Blanche Steinmetz, and Mrs. Wilma Gesselman. Other guests attending were Mrs. Nellie Rettig, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and Murel Gesselman.

SORRY, MARY!

Mary Baugh, who recently opened an art gallery in the Village, has taken some good natured kidding from her friends since the article appeared in the Outlook identifying her husband as Ray. Old timers know that Ray Baugh is a well known recently retired Monterey County Judge with property at White Rock while the REAL Mr. Baugh is "BILL!" If you haven't had an opportunity to visit her gallery, take just a minute to view the portrait of Joe Hitchcock. His is a Valley personality Mary has wanted to capture since meeting him at his birthday party in January.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY

A veteran California Highway Patrolman who for years had been assigned to the Salinas Rodeo grounds to cope with runaway livestock, cantankerous cowboys, and wayward dudes couldn't suppress a sigh of relief when this year's duty sheet read, "Carmel Valley." His peaceful patrol of our picturesque Valley was shattered by an urgent radio call to control a stampede on Robles Del Rio. Our scene fades hours later on a hot, tired, and dusty "drover" awaiting the arrival of hands from a nearby ranch to claim a bull and three heifers that he has managed to corral. 'Tis rumored that our Western lawman drove straight to head quarters and made out a request for his 1966 assignment...the Salinas Rodeo grounds!

Local firemen learn to fight gasoline blazes

Firemen representing departments in Carmel Valley, Marina and Gonzales attended a course in firefighting Sunday at the Naval Air Station in Monterey.

Attending from the Valley Department were Fire Chief Chip Collins, Boyd Danielson, Don Laird, Charles Gansel and George Palmer.

Working with Chief Norman Gehri, base instructor, and using air station equipment, the men were given the opportunity to practice fighting fires containing highly inflammable liquids, jet fuel, 100% octaine gasoline and kerosene.

The class was designed to prepare the men to cope with auto and plane wrecks.

UCB buys Security National Bank

SAN FRANCISCO -- The Security National Bank of Monterey County, with six banking offices on the Monterey Peninsula, will be merged with United California Bank, the fourteenth largest bank in the United States and the third largest statewide bank in California.

The announcement was made in a joint statement by Francis S. Baer, Chairman of the Board of United California Bank, and William A. Burkett, president and chairman of the board of the Security National Bank.

Security National Bank, the only home-owned, independent bank on the Monterey Peninsula was founded 76 years ago in Pacific Grove. The bank's six offices are located in Pacific Grove, Monterey, Carmel, Seaside, Marina and at the entrance to Carmel Valley.

Burkett said that the reason for the bank's merger is his poor health, but that all of the bank's present employees will be retained by United California Bank.

One Of Carmel Valley's Finest Homes

Price $97,500

Subject To Offer

Located in the prestige Los Ranchitos area where 3 acre parcels are the minimum site requirement and there thrive some of the most spectacular of our great old oaks, one of the finest homes built in recent years is going to some lucky bidder for much less than replacement cost.

A handsome white stucco and brick ranch style home, built for a very particular owner only three years ago with great care and attention to detail, we can't see how this 3 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath home could be replaced for less than $68,000. Add a swimming pool which is heated and filtered, patios and landscaping. Add the lot value (two similar parcels down the way are priced at $36,000 each) and you'll find your own appraisal, like ours, way over $110,000.

This property must be sold immediately to settle an estate. Can you afford NOT to see it and make your bid?

Plancom continues applications until meeting on August 25th

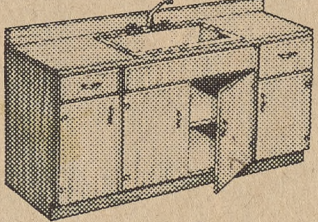

Both the Carmel Views and Los Laureles Hills subdivision applications were continued until the August 25 Planning Commission meeting in hope that the Spangle Associates report on the slope density formula for Carmel Valley will have been released by that time.

The Carmel Views development is near the Salinas entrance of the Los Laureles Grade Road. Los Laureles Hills is the proposed development of the 63 acre Diamond N Ranch off Miramonte Road.

The application of Angelo de Maria for a use permit to allow sale of liquor at his Rippling River Resort was granted and a tentative map for Burchfield Meadows apartment condominium at Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club was also approved. Leonard Williams application for rezoning on property near Wolter's Market was approved for Planned Commercial.

The request of Milton Frumkin of Saddle Mountain Ranch for a limited overnight camping permit for youth groups was continued until August 25 to determine road and health department requirements.

SHELAGH MAHONEY (left) and Jane Hopper, Girl Guides from Canada, visited the Outlook office last week and made a tour of the press room. The purpose of their visit is to meet informally with Girl Scouts in the United States and become acquainted with the area they are visiting. The girls have been on the Monterey Peninsula for three weeks and in that time have seen and done more than many residents who have lived here for years.

2 Girl Guides from Canada visiting area, next will attend All-States Encampment

Two Girl Guides from Canada, Shelagh Mahoney from Vancouver, British Columbia and Jane Hopper from Toronto, Ontario, have spent the past three weeks visiting in Monterey and

Santa Cruz counties. Shelagh has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gratiot of Monterey, and Jane has stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Chappelle in Salinas.

They visited Carmel Valley and The Outlook Monday. The Canadian visitors' trip was made possible through the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund to which Girl Scout troops throughout the United States contribute. This fund also enables girls from our country to attend international events sponsored by any one of the 67 member countries of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Shelagh, who is 18 years old, is a member of the Sea Rangers and Jane, who is 17, belongs to the Land Rangers. These correspond to our Senior Girl Scout designation. The Canadian program also includes the Air Rangers.

The two girls' uniforms are similar navy blue suits with white blouses. The Land Rangers wear red ties and overseas type caps while the Sea Rangers wear the hat of the Canadian Navy, a black tie and also sport a bo's'n pipe. The Land Rangers specialize in camping and related outdoor skills, and the Sea Rangers get training in rowing, navigation and sailing in addition to the community service projects that all groups participate in.

Shelagh said that each Sea Ranger group is named after a ship in the Canadian Navy and she was enrolled aboard her troop's namesake, the H.M.C.S. Frasier, by the captain.

The girls have been meeting with girls in the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council area and learning as much as they can about the history, scenery and people. They have visited Scout camp, museums, art galleries, schools and done a lot of sight-seeing.

From here they will travel to western North Carolina where they will attend the All-States Encampment of Girl Scouts at the Nantahala National Forest from August 9 to 27.

Darlene Haas from Senior Scout troop 1072 from Monterey will also participate in the event. Darlene is the only girl from this area who is going. Only those with considerable experience in camping, outdoor skills and backpacking are allowed to attend. Girls from all over the world will join in the encampment.

This weekly visitor gets a warm reception in every family circle

You can receive the Outlook by mail every week--for only $3.50 a year ($4.50 for out-of-state). Simply pick up your phone and dial 659-2241.

This Saturday

14 CV artist studios, art leader homes on AFA Tour

Valley artists are busily completing their plans for the American Federation of Artists Studio Open House which will take place on Saturday. Some are rushing to complete new studios or workshops, some are finishing paintings and all are busily getting things ready for the many spectators that are expected to participate in the tour.

The studios on the tour will be open from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. and offer a wide variety of settings and work to be viewed.

Visitors may begin the tour at any studio they wish and may visit all or any part of the group. Luncheon will be served at the Tantamount Theatre on Middle Canyon Road from 11:30 to 2:30 at a cost of $1.50. The featured dish will be the typically Californian La Casa Rosa casserole accompanied by green salad and French bread with brownies baked here in the Valley to top off the meal.

Beer on tap will also be available. Luncheon will be served out-of-doors where diners can enjoy the panoramic view from the Tantamount terrace.

Artists will be hosts in their own studios and will be happy to discuss their work with visitors. Additional hostesses will assist at each studio.

Mrs. Loran A. List Jr. is the chairman of the AFA tour and her assistant is Mrs. Charles Snorf. Mrs. Robert E. McDonald III and Mrs. August Armanasco have planned the luncheon and Mrs. Robert Work has been in charge of publicity.

Tickets are available at the AFA Headquarters on Lincoln in Carmel, at the Thunderbird Shop in the Valley and at each studio on the day of the tour.

Backgrounds many and varied of artists featured on tour

The backgrounds, interests and workshops of the Valley artists who are being featured in the American Federation of Arts Studio Tour on Saturday are many and varied. A good many of them have lived in the Valley for many years, a few have made this their home for just two or three years. All have made names for themselves for their work.

GEDDIS - MARTIN

Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin are both perfectionists in their theatre work and the various crafts, such as weaving, which they pursue. Their puppets, which they make and dress in the theatre workshop adjoining the Tantomount, are miniature personalities with fantastic detail.

Nationally known, they have had theatres in Boston and Santa Barbara before coming to Carmel in 1954. They found the Old Barn Theatre on Middle Canyon Road and constructed the present building in the Valley.

Their long theatre associations have brought them in close contact with the greats

JOE ATAIDE

Joe Ataide is a native Californian, born in San Leandro and educated at the California College of Arts and Crafts. He obtained his masters degree at University of Washington. He taught adult education art classes while he was a student at Berkeley and then went on to teach at elementary, high school and junior college levels.

After working as an illustrator at Fort Ord for three years, he left to devote his time to

MARLINDE VON RUHS

Marlinde Von Ruhs was born in Austria and graduated from the Academy of Fine Art in Vienna. She came to California as a student in 1948 and at-painting. For ten years he has been "on his own," drawing, working in oils and making prints.

tended University of California at Berkeley. After her marriage, she also studied at the Art Students League in New York.

She came to the Valley in 1956 after her husband died in an auto accident. She established her studio here and has had many one-man shows throughout the West and in New York.

Eve Tartar Brown and her cat, Yeasty

EVE TARTAR BROWN

Eve Tartar Brown works in a tiny studio, adjacent to their Robles Del Rio house, with a beautiful view of the Valley. She cuts, sands and fits the pieces of wood that make up her "constructions," developing the thought that she will portray through three dimensional effects and light and shadow.

Eve and her husband moved to the Valley three years ago to escape the mad dash of the fashion world in New York where Eve was a recognized designer and started one of the first "boutiques" in the country. Recently she had a one-man show at the Bednarz Gallery in Beverly Hills.

ALEX WEYGERS

Alex Weygers is an engraver, sculptor, engineer, marine architect, photographer, artist and master craftsman. He was born in Java and educated in Holland.

His rustic studio, home and workshop, all of which he has built himself from a variety of materials, reflect his complete self-sufficiency.

In the workshop he has been conducting this summer, he has taught his students how to make their own tools for stonework, just as he does. There isn't a bit of the myriad pieces of junk that he has collected around his workshop that won't eventually be turned into something of usefulness or beauty.

CATHERINE AND GEORGE SEIDENECK

The home of Catherine and George Seideneck was obviously built and decorated by artists and has beautifully mellowed in the 35 years they have lived in the Valley. They were both born in Chicago and went to the Art Institute, but didn't meet until they both moved to Carmel. Catherine was a pioneer in the technique of oil wash and works in landscapes. George has specialized in portraiture. He also related his artists eye to the camera and gained fame as a photographer. They will show paintings done abroad, mainly from Italy and Germany.

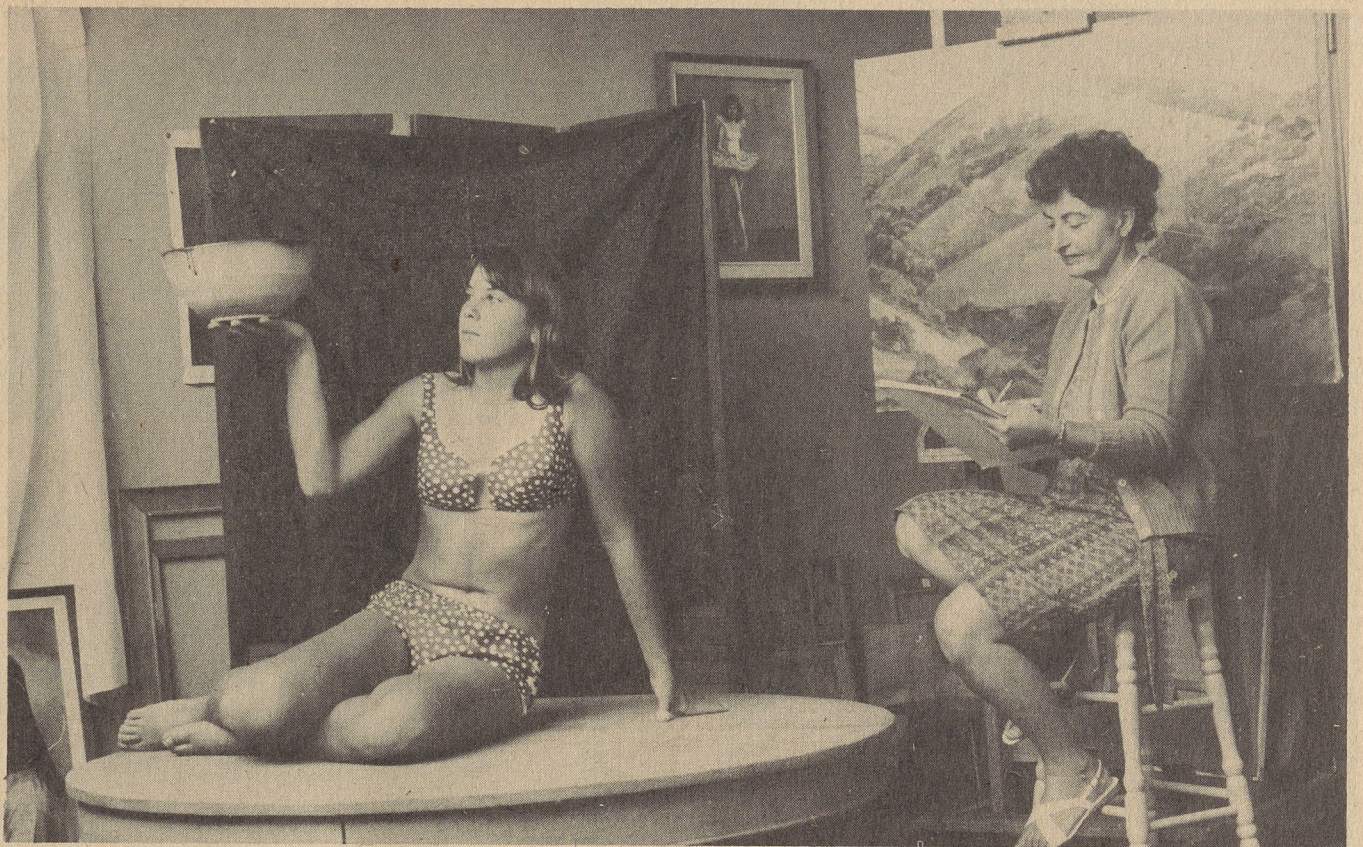

JEANNE FOSNOT

Jeanne Fosnot has lived in Carmel Valley for about 2 1/2 years and just recently moved into the house at the corner of Rancho Road and Carmel Valley Road. She is a graduate of University of Nebraska and received her MA in art from San Jose State.

Mrs. Fosnot taught for five years at University of Nebraska and while there worked a great deal with children's classes. About 10 of her bold and colorful canvasses will be displayed along with a number of drawings.

Her son, Jim, will be working at his potter's wheel at the Rancho Road studio. He has his A.B. in pottery from San Jose State and won first prize in ceramic sculpture at last year's Jazz Festival competition.

MARGARET, JIM ZIEGLER

Margaret and Jim Ziegler both capture the essence of people, she with her portraits and he with his camera. Margie has been painting most of her life, having studied at the Cincinnati Art Academy, University of the Philippines, Minneapolis Art Institute and California College of Arts and Crafts. Her studio was built especially for portraiture with high, tall windows for diffused light.

Jim and Margaret have lived in the Valley for nine years and Jim has been doing photographs ever since he retired. He is particularly known for his capture of the Western feeling in portraits of horses, cowboys, and wonderfully lighted landscapes. A large collection of Jim's work will be on display, and Margie will have a number of portraits that will be loaned for the tour by the owners.

RUGH-BAKER

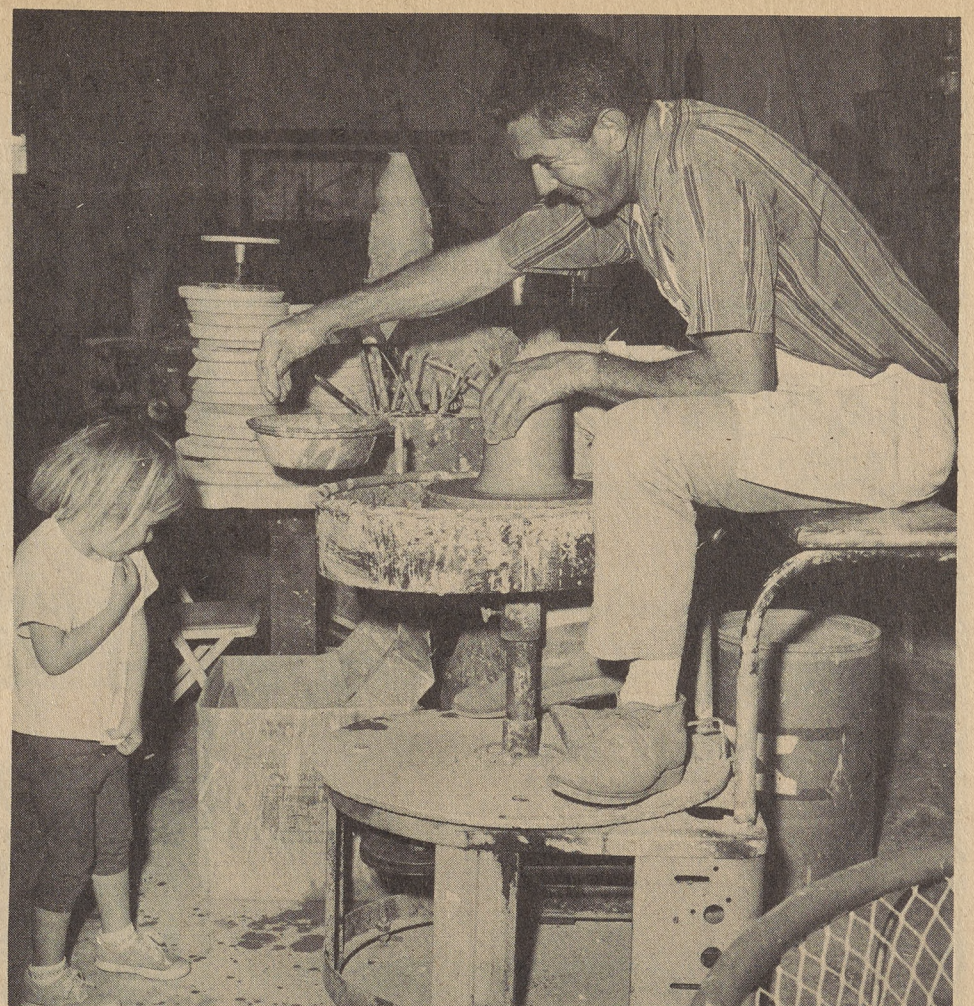

Ann Rugh and Eugene Baker both attended California College of Arts and Crafts before their marriage. Gene is known for his fantastic and painstaking detail in a quality of painting that glows from within. He taught for a number of years, painting on the side, and ten years ago reversed the pattern, making painting his one vocation. It was a wise decision as is shown by the recognition he has received.

The tour will feature their house where Ann has her studio and works on her colorful flo-erals, figures and scenes of the Valley and Monterey Bay. The inviting pool and garden complement the Spanish flavor they have brought to their home with furnishings and accessories, many of which they have designed themselves.

Rudy Marzi and his daughter, Lori

RUDY MARZI

Potter Rudy Marzi will be initiating his new studio and workshop the day of the tour. He is rushing against time to have it completed in time for viewing.

He will display many pieces of stoneware, his own hand-crafted sinks and tiles, garden fountains in addition to his well known Monterey Jade. Interesting bass bas reliefs which he has had at his home studio will be on display for the first time.

Rudy and his wife Nancy both attended California College of Arts and Crafts at Berkeley where she also studied pottery.

JEANETTE BEDWELL

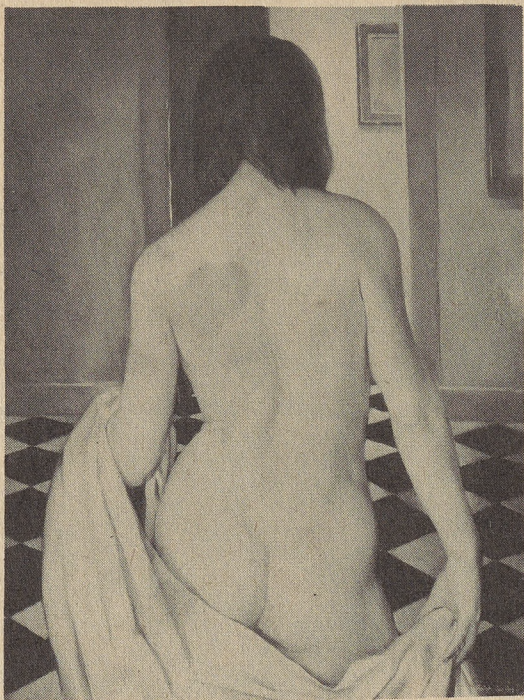

After painting seriously for only nine years, Jeanette Bedwell has achieved a reputation to earn her four one-man shows at the San Francisco Art Festival in the last five years.

Born in Seattle, she was raised in San Francisco and took art training at the Chicago Institute of Arts. Then the depression postponed her plans for an career.

A Valley resident for three years, she moved here from Redwood City where she taught painting and ceramics in adult education classes.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF ARTS

Post Office Box 4807
CARMEL, CALIFORNIA

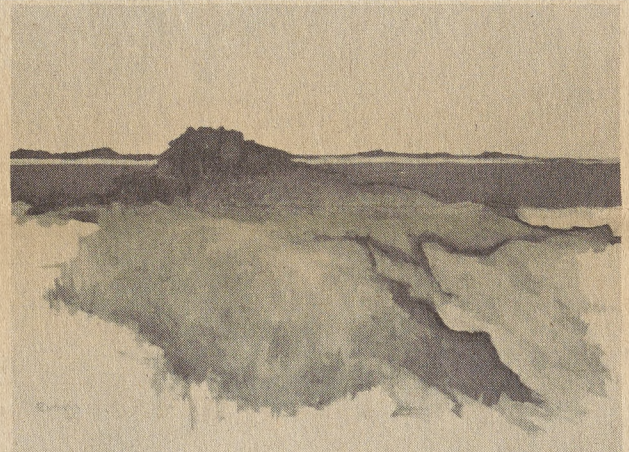

The Monterey Peninsula Chapter, organized in 1959, endeavors to perpetuate knowledge of and interest in the arts, to encourage a spirit of fellowship among artists, and to bring together the artist and the public at large.

Our goal is the establishment of a Cultural Center to include a permanent Art Museum with classrooms for workshop activities. We recognize the need for starting a permanent collection of the best work being done in this area and for having a place in which to receive art donated by collectors.

In our rented headquarters on Lincoln, south of Ocean in Carmel, a new exhibition is shown each month.

Workshops are presented frequently enabling artists and craftsmen to work with noted instructors and encouraging others to participate in creative activity.

Annual sponsorship by business houses and individuals is being actively solicited.
